The Family Institute Selects Sequest's TIER® Solution for Electronic Health Records

Lisle, IL (July 14, 2011) -- Sequest, a leading business solutions and software provider for the health and human services industry, announced The Family Institute at Northwestern University located in Evanston, IL, has selected Sequest to be the vendor of its behavioral health information system. The Family Institute is an independent, not-for-profit affiliate of Northwestern University. The Sequest TIER® system will be used for the entire clinical practice of The Family Institute, which includes multiple graduate training programs, a sliding-fee scale clinic, and a multi-site staff practice.

Angeline Heisler, Sr. VP for Finance and Administration commented, "Sequest understood the needs of our organization. The sales team presented a clear workflow to show how TIER can address our transition from a paper to electronic system." Angeline continued on by saying, "As we grow, we see a need to have real time access to patient information and data in a secure format. Sequest's TIER system is easy to use and easy to customize to our needs."

Sequest's CEO, Bill Connors, responded to The Family Institute's selection of TIER® by saying: "We are privileged to add The Family Institute at Northwestern University to the growing number of partnerships we have and look forward to working with the Institute team to achieve their goals."
